STRONG FACTS!

A great many people are asking what particular troubles Brown's IRON BITTERS is good for.

It will cure Heart Disease, Paralysis, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all similar diseases.

Its wonderful curative power is simply because it purifies and enriches the blood, thus beginning at the foundation, and by building up the system, drives out all disease.

A Lady Cured of Rheumatism.

Baltimore, Md., May 7, 1880.

My health was much shattered by Rheumatism when I commenced taking Brown's Iron Bitters, and I scarcely had strength enough to attend to my daily household duties.
I am now using the third bottle and I am regaining strength daily, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.
I cannot say too much in praise of it. Mrs. Mary E. Brashrar.

Kidney Disease Cured.

Christiansburg, Va., 1881.

Suffering from kidney disease, from which I could get no relief, I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, which cured me completely. A child of mine, recovering from scarlet fever, had no appetite and did not seem to be able to eat at all. I gave him Iron Bitters with the happiest results.

Heart Disease.

Vine St., Harrisburg, Pa.

Dec. 2, 1881.

After trying different physicians and many remedies for palpitation of the heart without receiving any benefit, I was advised totry Brown's Iron Bitters. I have used two bottles and never found anything that cave me so much relief. gave me so much relief.

Mrs. Jennie Hess.

For the peculiar troubles to which ladies are subject, Brown's Iron BITTERS is invaluable. Try it.

Memorial Day at Manassas.

Manassas, July 25th, 1882. The ladies and gentlemen who managed the affair, deserve great credit for their unceasing toil in making it a day long to be remembered. The decorations of the tables and grounds were beautiful-nature having already contributed much to the beauty of the grove around Bethlehem Church where the dinner was given. I have been asked why the ladies should have been so suddenly aroused to a sense of their duty to the heroes who lie buried only a mile from the village? "Come gather to their burial place, ye gay, ye of the sparkling eye, and frolic brow; I bid ye hither," and none will longer ask why; it is enough to soften a heart of stone, to see the graves of our fallen braves with nought to mark the last resting place of those who fell while fighting for us; the fence is almost down, the gates are gone, you will here and there see one board still standing, weather beaten and stained by the rains and snows of many years; (the names have disappeared), while there will be fifty upon the ground, blown from place to place by the ever varying wind. This spot should be the care of the whole South, for almost every State in the South, has a re-presentative there. There was a mistake made in the notice in last week's GAZETTE. The speakers mentioned were invited, but as in the olden time "They all with one consent began to make excuse, "and only General's Hunton and Early were present. Judge Sinclair of this county made a beautiful and touching address. He was followed by Gen. Early who could not make a speech when he had nothing but cold water, though I am at a loss to know why he should have said that, as he had just left a table, which was bountifully spread with good things, and when his whole attention seem-ed to be given to the business of eating; perhaps after all it was not the lack of something stronger than water to drink, but the consumption of too much substantial food which caused a disinclination on the General's part to speak. Gen. Hunton followed in a most excellent and earnest appeal in behalf of those who "Sleep their last sleep, and have fought their last battle."

There was a brass band present from Charlottes ville, which discoursed sweet music throughout the day; it was partly composed of old soldiers and being one of the weaker sex. I must confess that the uniforms, worn by the band, were not the least attractive feature of the scene. Let us hope that the war spirit is forever at rest in our beautiful country and that it will "Yield the torn world to the angel of peace." ASPHODIL.

A Petroleum Romance.

A fellow New Yorker pointed out to me this morning a citizen of Pittsburg who was. at one time, a salesman in a retail grocery there, at a salary of $500 a year. When the petroleum excitement became rampant, he went to Titusville without any money, and after a few weeks fell in with a prosperous speculator and "struck oil," making $400,000 to $500,000 a year. He increased this sum to $1,500,000, and was urged by his friends to retire from the oil region with the wages of his luck. This he refused to do, and before another twelve month he had lost it all but a few thousand dollars. Then he returned to Pittsburg and went to work in ulation attacked him once more and he betook himself a second time to oil Creek. After various shifts and adventures fortune revisited him, and he was able to count his million. Trying to double this-he had fixed his figure at $2,000,000-he was again finanthat he stayed among the wells, and was forced to earn a livelihood by becoming a day laborer. New opportunities opened to him, and a third time he got very rich. Reckless speculation once more brought him low, and he left for California, hoping to improve his prospects there. The fascination of petroleum drew him back. He made a fourth fortune, and lost it; and finally a fifth, with the same result. Within a few months the fickle goddess has smiled for the sixth time, and he has invested all his money in government bonds-well nigh $1,700,000and forsworn speculation. He sold all his oil before the recent tumble in prices, and says he has learned wisdom by experience. Having more than he will ever spend, he ought to be contented financially, and run no more risk .- Boston Advertiser.

HOPE.—It stole on its pinions of snow to a bed of disease, and the sufferer's frown became a smile-emblem of peace and endurance. It went to the house of mourning, and from the lips of sorrow there came sweet ed forth at the command of unholy impulses and saved him from disgrace and ruin. It dwelt like a living thing in the bosom of the mother whose son tarried long after the promised time of his coming, and saved her from desolation and the "care that killeth." It hovered about the head of the youth who had become the Ishmael of society, and led him on to deeds which even his enemies praised. It snatched a maiden from the jaws of death, and went with an old man to heaven. Hope on, good brother. Have it; reckon it on your side. Wrestle with it that it may not depart; it may repay your pains. Life is hard enough at best, but Hope shall lead you safely over its mountains and sus-We will remove on or about August 28, 1882, Part with all else beside, but cling to Hope.
